TannerRitchie Publishing and Birlinn Ltd have collaborated to create Scotland's History Online (SHO).

Remote learning has never been more important, and SHO provides exclusive access to Birlinn's growing collection of new and backlist titles in one convenient online destination, powered by TannerRitchie's widely praised user interface, MEMSO Shell.

Birlinn's titles are essential texts for college and university courses that touch on Britain and Scotland, and now there has never been a better time to make a complete library of Scotland's most important historical research available to all your users.

Subscribers will have access to Birlinn's newest history titles and backlist, including the complete backlist of the John Donald academic imprint along with titles first published by Tuckwell Press.

Title: The Scottish Record Society Online (SRS Online)

ISSN: ISSN: 2564-3347

Publication Date: May 2022

TannerRitchie and the Scottish Record Society are pleased to announce the release of SRS Online.

This new database collection, built on TannerRitchie's trusted platform for historical sources, brings all SRS's titles from its foundation in 1897 to the present day together in a digital format for the first time.

Features:

1. Provides convenient remote access to the publications of one of Scotland's oldest and most respected historical societies.
2. Solves access to high demands titles; fill gaps in your hard-copy collection.
3. Search and find relevant content across all the titles in ways impossible via hard copies or single ebooks.
4. Gain access to SRS's new titles in digital format as soon as they are published.
5. Transform institutional and personal subscriptions into powerful digital access, while still receiving the traditional benefits of membership.

Subscriptions to SRS Online includes a year's institutional or personal membership to the Scottish Record Society, entitling you to also receive its annual hard-copy volumes and new publications, along with the other benefits of membership.

Subscribing to SRS Online ensures the continued success of the Scottish Record Society as it continues publishing into its third century of existence.

Red Book of Scotland

Title: The Red Book of Scotland Online (RBS Online)

ISSN: ISSN: 2564-3339

Publication Date: 2019

"[A] 7,500-page genealogical blockbuster going far beyond existing individual clan and family histories." (Dr. Domhnall Uilleam Stiùbhart, Senior Lecturer, Sabhal Mor Ostaig.)

The Red Book of Scotland Online seeks to fill an enormous void that exists in Scotland's genealogical history.

Researched over 30 years, this publication is fruit of a massive self-funded research project undertaken by Gordon MacGregor, and places genealogy back within its rightful place as a serious academic discipline.

The Red Book of Scotland Online is, quite simply, a new essential reference tool which should be constantly at hand for anybody working within the fields of Scottish history and Scottish genealogy in the broadest senses.

Built on our trusted MEMSO Shell platform, RBS Online is an essential reference tool for genealogists and all students of Scotland's past.

ISSN: ISSN: 1716-9321

Publication Date: 2004

New titles monthly: Yes

An essential resource for the study of Britain and its place in the world during the medieval and early modern period.

“The single most significant game changer in the last 20 years for those of us doing research in British history. I couldn't do it—and neither could my students—without you.” Prof. Linda Mitchell, University of Missouri-Kansas City.

Printed Sources and Manuscripts:

MEMSO is an indispensable and comprehensive online research database for universities, researchers and libraries around the world, containing a large repository of state papers, chronicles, accounts and correspondence from the archives of Britain, Ireland and continental Europe. It continues to grow with new books added every month.

Other features:

MEMSO's user interface is designed specifically for complex research with historical sources, with powerful phrase and keyword searches. Its customizable interface was designed by historians, for historians.
